GB2RS LOCAL NEWS - 4 October 2026

Next, this coming week's Local News, which is compiled from verified items which are published on the RSGB's website

The GB2RS local news bulletin is intended to be compiled mainly from items supplied by the RSGB. Unfortunately, most of these have not been updated for a long time and can no longer be considered as either being current or as actual news items. In order to ensure that this particular bulletin which is being broadcast for Central Scotland is up-to-date and accurate, only items which have been verified as being current and correct have been selected. To have an item included in this broadcast, please send it to radcom@rsgb.org.uk or by contacting your local GB2RS newsreader. In order to ensure that it is included in the most appropriate broadcast, please include the date.

Railways on the Air took place last weekend and the Livingston and District Amateur Radio Society participated from the Edinburgh Society of Model Engineers near Uphall using the club's callsign MS0LIV. They worked 240 stations mainly from around NW Europe with the bulk of them on a half-wave 40m band aerial at 7m above ground. Their operation included periods of pile up operating which proved educational to the newly licensed MM7 members. And finally, they even managed to find some time to call the east central Scotland VHF GB2RS News presenter after last Sunday's broadcast.

Now the Scottish club news …

There are two meetings on Tuesday.

Firstly, the Cockenzie and Port Seton Amateur Radio Club will be having a construction night at the Cockenzie and the Port Seton Royal British Legion.
